The Reason for the Cross

Although you may not fully understand

The reason for the Cross
It's so important for you to know
God was never at a loss
He was ALWAYS in control
As He watched His suffering son
And when Jesus died in this way
All thought that He was done
But then the sky darkened
And it became black as night
The crowd began to ponder
Maybe Jesus was right
And then, three days later
The tomb was open, empty, too
His resurrection just confirms
All Jesus said was really true
So put aside your scholarly mind
Even common sense won't do
There is only one reason for the Cross

It's God's infinite love for YOU!

"Neither height nor depth, nor anything else in all creation, will be able to separate us from the love of God that is in Christ Jesus our Lord."

THANK YOU FOR GIVING THE 'GIFT OF LIFE'

Thanks to Southport heroes like Bonnie Gilmore, Mike Strawn and Jim Texter, we potentially saved close to a hundred lives last month. Thanks a million to everyone who came forward and took the time to donate their precious life saving 'Gift Of Life'! Your generosity and giving spirit is deeply appreciated by everyone involved in this "life saving" ministry; especially those whose life depended on your willingness to give of yourself. Thank you, thank you.

Also, a great big 'Thank You' to everyone who helped make our Winter Drive a great success; especially Sean & Lorene Rankin who donated a $50.00 raffle gift card and our own HOA who donated a $25.00 raffle gift card. Winner of the $50.00 gift card was 'Charlie' Grigelevich and winner of the $25.00 gift card was Helen Greene.

GUIDELINES FOR RESIDENTS WITH DOGS!

Hello Southport Springs Residents,

We wanted to take a moment to touch base with everyone regarding proper guidelines and rules for you and your pets within the community. For your safety, the safety of our furry friends and the courtesy of all within the community, we ask all dog owners to observe the following in accordance to the rules and regulations.

- * When your pet is outside of the home, it must be on a hand-held leash at all times and the resident must remain in control of their pets.
- * Pets are not allowed to be tied up or left outdoors unattended.
- * Residents must clean up after their pets.
- * Pets are prohibited from the office, all community common buildings and other residents lots.
- * Residents may only walk their dogs on their own lot or designated walking areas. Pets cannot be walked on other residents lots, vacant lots or the golf course.

We thank you all in advance for your cooperation to the above guidelines. Should you have any questions, please reach out to the office during normal business hours.

SINCERELY,

Grief Support

No matter what the circumstances, grief is a painful and confusing process. A Grief-Share group is a safe, welcoming place where people understand the difficult emotions of grief. At this 13-week support group program that will meet weekly starting Wednesday, March 20th on through Wednesday, June 12th, you'll discover what to expect in the days ahead and what's "normal" in grief. Since there are no neat, orderly stages of grief, you'll learn helpful ways of coping with grief in all of its unpredictability and gain solid support each step of the way.

At each weekly gathering, you will have an opportunity to view a video featuring respected counselors, pastors and healthcare professionals on grief-related topics plus you'll hear relatable personable stories of grief. Following the video there will be a small group discussion to allow attendees to talk, share support and personally apply what they've learned on the video. Everyone will receive a book to take home filled with valuable exercises to help navigate their personal grieving process.

Please join us Wednesday afternoons from 1:30pm to 3:30pm in the Poker Room located in the Main Clubhouse starting Wednesday, March 20th. For more information and to register, please call or text me at 407-620-8111. A $25.00 registration fee includes your participant workbook and handouts.

Sharon Browder

Note: This program is proudly sponsored by Faith Baptist Church, Wesley Chapel.

SPS VET'S

"How World War II Necessitated the Invention of Super Glue" by Caitlian O'Brien, is an article I thought you might find interesting.

Yes, Harry Coover discovered Super Glue during WWII. The greatest of all time, fast acting adhesive for all your stick together needs. Chances are you have a tube of this in a kitchen drawer. You know that one with all those take out menus, rubber bands, random keys, and who knows what else. Before it occupies space in our junk drawers, and our hearts, it's interesting to know that it was accidentally developed for the U.S. Military.

In 1942, companies across the country were looking to support the war effort, including the Eastman Kodak Company. One of its inventors, Dr. Harry Coover, accidentally created a new compound while attempting to make clear plastic gun sights for allied soldiers. The compound, cyanoacrylate was incredibly durable but way too sticky to use. Coover and his team abandoned the substance not wanting to get stuck on it literally or figuratively.

Over a decade later Dr. Coover, who would become known as Dr. Super Glue, rediscovered the compound while researching heat resistant polymers for jet canopies. Cyanoacrylate adhesives required no heat or pressure to stick items together and hold them permanently in place. In 1956 the patent was born. The Eastman Coover team took the patent and repackaged the product for commercial sale as Eastman's 910 which was later changed to Super Glue.

Many soldiers suffered injuries off base, often bleeding out before getting proper care. Thanks to Super Glue, medics and corpsmen were able to spray Super Glue directly on the skin stopping the bleeding until the soldier got to the hospital for additional treatment saving many lives in the process. At that time the chemical had not been approved by the Food and Drug Administration because it had the potential to cause skin irritation. A derivative was approved in 1998 and functioned as a liquid bandage and marketed under the names of Dermabond and Trauma Seal. These products pose less danger of irritation or bacterial infection and remain available for commercial use.

SOIL HEALTH

Bob Gallion rcgallion@gmail.com

RIGHT UNDER YOUR FEET: SOIL HEALTH AND THE CLIMATE CRISIS

We're already beginning to see what the future has in store for us and it's not a pretty sight. A major impact on the climate issue that is frequently overlooked is its negative effect on soil health. Over time the toll of erosion, pollution, losses in needed organic compounds and other soil nutrients impacts the climate crisis and imperils a very basic human need to eat.

I've long taken an interest in climate change and ways that gardeners can do their best to help turn the tide on climate problems by taking action. The way we grow food has a vital role to play in helping all of us end the crisis and create a sage sustainable future with fresh healthy food grown in a sustainable ECO System. My focus has been on finding solutions.

There are plenty of reasons to be weary of using synthetic fertilizers we manufacture versus compost, dried manures, etc. Chemical run-off from man-made fertilizers can run into streams, lakes, and other bodies of water leading to recurrent algae blooms "Red Tide" killing vegetation, sea life, and coral out cropping. Fertilizers feed plant life, but knowing which product to use, when to apply, and at what rate can be a balancing act often creating problems.

For plants to survive they require a magic formula: water, plus sunlight, oxygen, and fertilizer. Many green thumbs forget the last part of this equation. But fertilizers are substances that make soil more fertile when properly applied and are essential to plant growth. Not all soils are equally nutritious. In short, fertilizer is plant food that can be a benefit or a detriment if improperly applied. As some put it, the best way to feed your plants is by building food soil.

Today, fertilizers are an essential part of your garden's soil structure. How much fertilizer to use and when is very controlled by individual Florida counties. Also, how much water and when it can be provided is county controlled. You can monitor these ordinances via the internet.

See you somewhere.

SOUTHPORT'S POT LUCK RECIPE OF THE MONTH Irish Lamb Stew

(WE ACTUALLY HAVE TWO GREAT RECIPES TO SHARE)

Our first recipe was submitted by Denise Stone

Ingredients:

1 1/2 lbs. lamb stew meat
1/4 cup all purpose flour
1/2 tsp each salt & pepper (to taste)
4 Tbls. extra virgin olive oil divided into to equal portions
1 large yellow onion (rough chopped)
2 Tbls. fresh parsley (chopped)

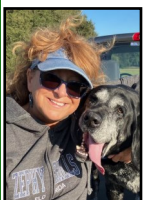

6 medium sized carrots (rough chopped)
6 celery stalks (rough chopped)
6 cups of Beef broth
4 medium red potatoes (chopped)
1 Bay Leaf & 2 sprigs of Thyme

Instructions:

- In a medium bowl, coat your lamb stew meat with flour and season with salt & pepper. Bring half the olive oil to medium/high heat in a large stock pot.
- Brown the floured lamb meat on all sides then remove from the pot and set aside. Note: leave the browned bits sticking to the bottom of the pot for the base of a great stew.
- Add the other half of the olive oil to the pot and sweat the onion until translucent. Add all remaining ingredients and bring to a boil.
- Once a slow rolling boil is reached, reduce the heat to low and cook at low simmer for 90 minutes.
- Remove Bay leaf and Thyme sprigs before serving.

Note: Other vegetables that would be a great addition include turnips, parsnips, fennel, leek, shallot and peas.

Our second recipe was submitted by Karen Coulter who found it in the Southport Springs cookbook. The recipe was originally submitted by Bill Metzner.

Ingredients:

3 lbs. lamb cut into 2" square pieces
3 Tbls. oil
1 cup cubed carrots

1 cup cubed turnips
1 onion (sliced)
1 tsp. salt 1/4 tsp. pepper
3 cups cubed potatoes
Flour or cornstarch to thicken

Instructions:

Heat oil in pot. Brown lamb over medium/high heat. Cover with water. Allow to simmer for 3 hours or until lamb is tender. Add more water if necessary. Add carrots, onion, salt and pepper. Cook for 1 hour. Add potatoes and cook until potatoes are done. Thicken with flour paste or cornstarch. Season additionally to taste.

Note: What would go great with both of these recipes is a loaf of freshly baked Irish Soda Bread...

Golf Association

Dave Dundas, President

Hello All ~

Well, we are now into March and the golf course continues to be very busy. I understand that January and February have been financially banner months for our course. I have never seen the parking lot so full most days here at Southport. Also, our golf maintenance crews from Davie Golf seem to be doing a great job. I have seen some very nice equipment on the course. As most of you have seen the sign, the Fund Raiser has been cancelled and will happen sometime in the spring. The course was way too busy for us to have a shotgun like we did in the Ryder Cup matches. The Sun RV Tournament went well as over 100 participants played. Congratulations to Betty Texter, Janice Roy, Lynne Rumbaugh and Sue Wampler for placing second. The "Dream Team" men finished at 11 under and the other foursome of men came in at 6 under. The winners came in at 14 under par. Everyone got at least one prize, drinks and a meal.

The Club Championship will take place March 16th & 17th with an 8AM starting time each day. Sign up sheet will go up March 2nd. Info on the cost along with the dinner menu will be posted as well. Just like last year, the sign-up sheet will have blocks for name, dinner and guest. The cost for the championship will be $20.00 per player. Please sign up as early as possible so we can have a head count for the dinner and the light breakfast. As always, the awards will be given out after dinner on Sunday.

Most of you have seen the new home installed on the right side of hole #15. The net is up to protect the home and the white out of bounds stakes should be reset by the time this newsletter comes out. If you hit your ball outside of the white markers you must go back and re-tee from the tee box. Tree removal will continue as trees are being marked for removal. The rye grass has made the greens and fairway look nice. We will wait to see how the greens hold up when the rye burns off. Also, all of us have seen the new posts for the sand trap rakes. If you hit your ball near the rake post and do not have a swing, you can get a free drop in the sand trap but no closer to the hole. Water stations have been added as well.

Please fill your divots and a few more you see and please rake the traps. Spring is coming which will mean less crowds on the course. I'm interested to see with all the new housing going on around here how busy we will be once the snowbirds return to their northern homes.

Well, that's it for now. You know, the best way not to have to rake the sand traps is to stay out of them!

Regards

DID YOU KNOW?

That Gaelic is one of the oldest living languages in the world. It originated some 3,000 to 4,000 years ago. Ireland has two languages; English and Gaelic. Word order is reversed and characters appear that do not appear in the English alphabet.

That Ireland's National symbol is the Golden Harp. It's the only country in the world that has a musical instrument as its national symbol.

That the average Irishman drinks 211 pints of beer a year which puts it in the top 10 of the world's largest beer drinkers. In Dublin there's a pub for every 100 inhabitants. Dublin has a population of 1,270,000 people. That's 12,700 Pubs! 'Slainte'!

There are over 35 million Americans of Irish ancestry which is seven times more than the population of Ireland. Barack Obama's great-great grandfather was an Irishman who left for America in 1850.

It's true! There are no wild snakes in Ireland. Could the legend be true? Did St. Patrick really chase them all out?

EDITORIAL

Lori Pettit, Ass't Editor

February 21st - holding space for a loved one today who is overcoming cancer.

People have very fixed ideas about what is possible. Anything is possible. Everything is possible. Holding a belief in the possibility of being cured from disease is essential. An essential belief is made possible by practice. Practice is a willful intention. Intention is the truth of what one believes. I often practice questioning my thoughts and opinions about what I see and hear. Sight and hearing provide all of the information that we need to navigate through life.

Thought is needed for decision making but too often thought progresses into opinion. An opinion is just one person's interpretation of the information provided by eyes and ears. Opinion seeks to classify, relegate and devalue in order to promote one thought as the essential truth. One opinion is of no greater or lesser value than another. Opinions are neither true nor false. Opinions are just thought. But that is not how many people regard their opinions. People fiercely defend their opinions and often square off against each other as if entering a bull ring. Countless times I have been in a public space and heard a strong opinion launched into the crowd. I looked around to identify the grenade thrower and was stunned to see a neighbor. My neighbor decided that everyone present needed to know his opinion about people of color, politics, religion, LGBTQ+ people, dogs, guns, etc.

Grenades, like opinions, are meant for small-scale combat in close proximity to an enemy. There are usually five to ten people who have been exposed to the opinion grenades that I have witnessed. The impact of a grenade usually results in a few wounded feelings. Maybe a budding friendship falls without flowering. Another bud will emerge elsewhere, and the parties move on no worse for the wear. But a more destructive weapon is available.

There is a powerful weapon being used to promote opinion and obliterate bonds of friendship between people. The new weapon of mass destruction is social media. The same very opinionated neighbors now are engaging in guerilla warfare through social media. Social media can be of great benefit to people. It enables communication and sharing of information between friends and family members. It is a convenient way to share stories and pictures, news and information. But it also can provide a very impersonalized way to shame, blame, disrespect, bully, and generally mistreat others. How is this possible?

Typing words on a screen removes the discomfort of having a face-to-face discussion with someone whose opinion differs from yours. Instead of throwing an incendiary grenade of an opinion into a small grouping, mass destruction is possible through the power of "liking and sharing" posts on social media. The act of "liking and sharing" content that uses the same words, phrases, fonts and memes then feeds back into the algorithm used by social media to suggest new content to you and to your friends. Then the content of YOUR friends and family is curated by the same opinion, but the impact zone is limitless. By doing this, YOU have just helped share intolerance, bigotry, hate, misinformation, sadness, loneliness, and intention.

Set a new intention when looking at social media. Just look! Don't like, share or subscribe to anything for 10 days. You will be less angry and less disappointed by the state of the world and our neighborhood. Look and listen but resist the urge to react to what you disagree with by posting content that is a word grenade. If you would not walk to your neighbor's house, knock on his or her door and say those exact words in a face-to-face conversation then those words need not be said on social media. Ask Yourself about the intention for the exchange of opinions. Is YOUR intention to prove through a public venue that your opinion is truth? And if your neighbor does not share the same truth then they deserve to be "re-educated" by YOU through a public forum like Facebook where everyone else can participate, mock, embarrass and share?

I believe that most people have good intentions towards others. What I see and hear on social media often does not support my world view. So, I stopped looking at it. I removed the ability to react by removing the application from my mobile phone. I still have an active profile, but it takes more effort for me to engage. It takes intention for me to get out my laptop, power it on, open the application and then look. Did I mention that I am often too busy for the ten minutes it takes to complete those steps? I am also very lazy and intend to spend most of my time pursuing joy. When your intentions match your actions nothing and no one can upset your peace of mind.

I now have 60 days of no social media interaction. Only 30 days left to meet my goal. Peace is priceless.

Peace is intentional. Peace is free anytime if you set a higher intention and believe that kindness exists in everyone. It exists even within you, despite your opinions.

So here's a challenge. Go "Cold Turkey" until the Ides of March. I initially thought I would write about Spring and new beginnings; but new beginnings don't occur just once a year. Every day is a new beginning. Another chance to make the choice to protect your inner peace. So go for it.
